

VTX PARTNERS

REVOLUTIONISING UNDERWRITING

VTX Partners, part of the Volante Global Group of Companies, is a team of underwriters committed to revolutionising how the insurance industry operates through technology.

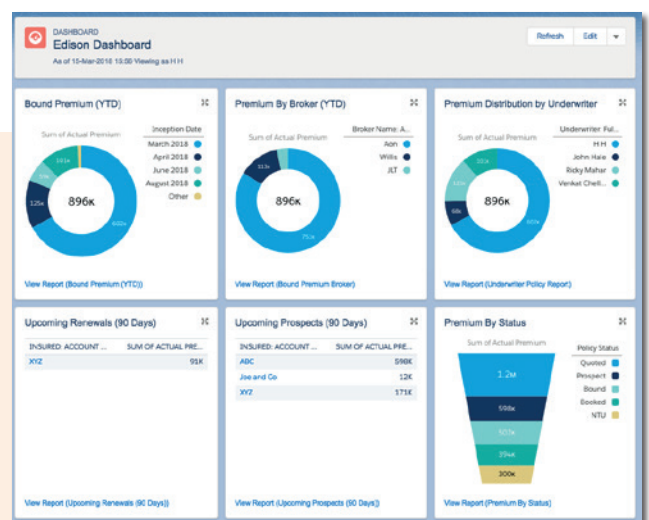

VTX®, developed by VTX Partners, is an in-house, cloud-based, end-to-end MGA underwriting platform which:

1. Delivers consistent functionality across the entire organisation – a single system which can be deployed for every individual.
2. Drives profitable growth by providing front-end distribution portals and the ability to price business based on real-time risk information.
3. Enhances underwriting profitability through a live virtuous circle that connects all stakeholders and functions from Sales to Underwriting, Claims, Reinsurance and Finance.

MARKET-LEADING FUNCTIONALITY

Incorporating leading-edge technology, and built on an approved Lloyd's version 5 framework, VTX:

- Delivers real-time, risk-level analytics to all stakeholders via customised web and mobile portals – underwriters, portfolio managers, capacity providers and investors.
- Creates single-window policy administration from pre to post bind, incorporating all compliance, audit and sanction requirements.
- Provides a 'single version of the truth' – single entry spans the entire organisation allowing a 360-degree view of the customer with a single click.
- Optimises underwriting trading time – average of 2 minutes to quote a policy, with built-in workflow, document management and production capabilities.
- Enhances long-term pricing adequacy through built-in rating engines – driven by improved data capture, historical data analytics and automated links to third party market information.
- World-class security with Amazon Web Services.
- Customisable and scalable across products, geographies and types of insurance.

DRIVING REAL PROFITABLE GROWTH

VTX transforms large and complex data sets into dynamic dashboards, delivering critical, live risk information at the point of underwriting.

This direct data access enhances underwriting decision making and productivity. It also strengthens both risk selection and portfolio management capabilities.

Designed and built around a 'Plug & Play' model in combination with white-label web and mobile portals, VTX is flexible and scalable to support product development, integration of new underwriting teams and expansion of distribution channels.

ENHANCING UNDERWRITING PERFORMANCE

A consistent platform, VTX allows re/insurers to develop tailored risk solutions, price products accurately, and provide swift and effective claims handling, whilst delivering transparency throughout.

From the company-wide portfolio down to the individual insured exposure, this allows for easy, instant identification of asset-level loss causation.

The real-time data access enhances precision portfolio management capabilities, supporting both underwriting decision making as well as reducing claims leakage and fraud.

Enhanced by features such as document management, digital document production, system-based underwriting authority, automated capacity referral and audit processes, VTX allows all stakeholders to reduce their operating expenses.

OUR FOCUS

VTX Partners are committed to challenging the status quo by revolutionising the way we underwrite.

Developing systems that are built by underwriters for underwriters, we are placing technology at the centre of the insurance business, and bringing data to the fore.
